

Whispers in the Night

Can I have a hand?

by: Lisper

Marcus the Nosferatu Prince has taken the hands of all the current Orlando Nosferatu. In order to uphold the traditions of the Camarilla and show the city how bad it is for anyone of your clan to attack and Elysium. Not only will the offender be punished but so will the entire clan from which the offender came. The Nosferatu including myself have been without a hand since the last gathering. All the Nosferatu of Orlando other than that of the statue of Miroslava are to be seen as Loyal, for they all even those unacknowledged who showed up to be acknowledged walked up and submitted their hands for punishment and bore the badge of shame with honor. The prior Keeper Ezra has ruled that the defilement of Elysium has been properly absolved. Therefore Orlando will not face any other punishment from the sad fate of our Elysium.

Ezra turns his back on the Prince

After the defilement of Elysium and the proper execution of the defiler. Prince Marcus St. John offered Ezra the position of Scourge, part because we need a Scourge and partly for his the actions he took that caused the defilement of Elysium in the first place. However Ezra seems to feel he is above the Prince and the Camarilla laws need not apply to him. So he has walked away and rumors say he is keeping company with the Anarchs.

A picture of Ezra thinking he is better than the Prince and Camarilla

Prince St Johns new masterpiece Miroslava punishment.

A punishment for the Ages

by: Lisper

Encased in glassed, in a one hundred year slumber.. No it is not Sleeping Beauty it is the traitor to his clan the clanless Miroslava formerly of Orlando. He is homeless and unwanted and currently a fixture in the Angel Share Bar, run by Cierzo of Clan Nosferatu. See what happens to anyone that dares to defile an Elysium while Marcus St. John is Prince.

Disney Domination By the Garou

Cierzo told a legend of a story that him and the Garou stormed the castle and destruction ensued, they destroyed the last remnants of the cursed Elaine's powers. I am told she will walk these hollowed grounds no more. A greater gift the Garou could not of bestowed upon Orlando, lets hope that this is the start of, if not a friendship, a truce between our kind. May we have a Blessed Samhain this year without the fear of Elaine and her kind ruining our festivities.

Ventruue Venture Vibe Thru Orlando

by: Lisper

Some clans come slip in quietly, others make a statement. This is the case in Orlando, the rule of Prince Marcus has gotten the attention of Ventruue. They have come to Orlando in Lanieri suits. Leather is the theme in all the places they opened. They rule the cool and slick. However they are polite and seem knowledgeable about the comings and goings of the mortal coil, with lawyers, and business owners abound. The Ventruue also seem to have a few used car salesmen personality types too. It is this I want to talk about although most the clan came in without waves, it was Elder Tomasso Mezzonete that seemed to have trouble following basic Camarilla etiquette, when it came to introductions with the Seneschal Nora. He tended to interrupt and try to take over the seneschal's duties, which was extremely rude to the seneschal. Perhaps things are done differently in his country. I have seen no other episodes of this but the behavior from him or his clan but is noted and now out in the public realm.

Didi Mezzanotte

Come Hell or High Water

For the good or for the bad we seem to have a very popular, and Media Crazy young one in our mists. She is everywhere from Magazines, and TV, to Radio and Internet Waves. You can't go anywhere without hearing her name. She has fans and then some. Her pictures pop up in every paper. Your not anyone unless your in the know and Didi is definitely in the know. Polite and full of charm. She is ready for her photo weather it is hot as hell or a raging hurricane pouring down water and getting her Gucci shoes wet.

Besides being picture perfect she is also smart and with her wits secured the Ventruue Primogen spot. Watch out world because ready or not Didi Mezzanotte is here and she is hot hot hot!
